Declining Illiteracy

Significant further inroads against illiteracy in the United States have been found, not unexpectedly, in the 1970 census. Of persons 14 years of age and older, only one in 100 could not read and write in any language, compared to 2.4 in 1960.

The rate has been more than halved for both white and blacks. Whites dropped from 1.6 per 100 to .7, and blacks from 7.5 to 3.6 in the past decade.

The decline in illiteracy has been persistent over the years. One hundred years ago 80 of every 100 nonwhites (aged 10 and over in that census) were illiterate, and 11.5 of every 100 whites.

Achieving literacy is a minimal educational step, but an important one. And the greater the number who achieve it, the sounder the democracy.—Shreveport (La) Journal

Frustrated Editors

Vice President Agnew's remark that he'd like to edit CBS news confirms our feeling that many persons outside our profession yearn to be editors. Curiously, some editors fancy themselves in other roles. Most of us would rather be right than Vice President, though we can't recall that anybody ever offered us the choice.—Charleston (S.C.) Open Debate on Aluminum Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations opened Tuesday between the AFL-CIO Aluminum Workers International Union—AWIU—and the two largest domestic producers of basic aluminum.

Meeting spearately at the same hotel, officials of Aluminum Corporation of America, the top producer, and Reynolds Metals, heard the union present its economic proposals and agreed to a scheduled of further talks.

Meanwhile, the two companies continued separate negoations with the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers of America — USWA— at another hotel, where Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. began its own steelworker talks Monday.

The ALCOA-AWIU negotiations involved 8,900 workers in eight plants in New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Ohio and Iowa whose contract expires May 31.

Found Guilty of Misusing U.S. Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — David L. Jones, 39, of North Little Rock, former director of finance and purchasing for the state Revenue Department, was found guilty in U.S. District Court here Tuesday on a charge of misrepresenting the purpose of two invoices so they would be paid with federal funds.

The case concerned money from a $49,986 federal grant that the Revenue Department received in 1968 to help convert its motor vehicle registration files to computers.

Jones was charged under an indictment with causing the Ad dressograph - Multigraph Corp. to prepare two invoices totaling $8,642 from the federal grant. The indictment alleged that the invoices were fraudulent in that the firm had not performed any work that entitled it to payment under the grant.

U.S. Spy Satellite to Watch Reds

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — An American spy satellite rocketed into space today to monitor Soviet and Red Chinese missile tests and to give almost instant warning of a long-range hostile missile attack.

The satellite, if successful, would provide 30-minute warning of such an attack, doubling the 15 minutes that present radar systems give U.S. forces to prepare antimissile devices and to launch bombers and rockets in retaliation.

A Titan 3 rocket blazed into the early morning darkness to hurl the 1,800-pound satellite toward a near-stationary orbit 24,000 miles above Southeast Asia. The launching had been postponed 24 hours because of minor technical problems.

The Pentagon cloaked the mission in secrecy and made no advance announcement although information about the launching was generally known in the Cape Kennedy area through unofficial sources. A brief announcement after liftoff said merely that a satellite had been launched.

A similar spy satellite failed to achieve a proper orbit last November when an upper stage malfunctioned. It was the first in a series of improved spacecraft designed to aim infrared and other sensors at Soviet and Red Chinese missile bases.

The sensors, which have undergone years of testing in experimental satellites, would spot the exhaust of rising rockets.

Ray to Sit in Solitary 30 Days

PETROS, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray will be stripped of all privileges and confined to a single cellblock in Tennessee's maximum security prison for 30 days.

The confessed slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. lost his status as an "honor grade" prisoner at Brushy Mountain State Prison Tuesday for making an unsuccessful escape attempt.

The prison's disciplinary committee imposed the punishment in its weekly hearing.

Life's Wounds Are Mellowed Memories as Time Rolls by

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Nothing reconciles people to the price of life more than memory.

Sometimes a too-recent memory can burn like a fire. But as a memory grows older and mellower it usually loses its searing quality, and we become adjusted to the losses and hurtful episodes of living.

It is through the memory of our experiences that we digest and assimilate the meaning of our existence. And your own private world is pretty extensive if you can look back and remember when—

It was fame enough to last a lifetime if a farmer had grown a pumpkin big enough to be exhibited in the window of the local newspaper in 1912.

When a man had a toothache, he didn't just tell you about it—he opened his mouth wide and pointed his finger at the offending molar, just to be sure you didn't blame the wrong one. On a good day a fellow might get to see half a dozen aching teeth during a short walk through the center of town.

In a small town half the people over 80 had already written their own obituary notices so that at least after death they'd get a fair deal.

A congressman knew that his favorable mail from back home would increase sharply every spring, because that was when his constituents wrote him for free seeds for their gardens.

Half the housewives in America woke up every morning with the fearful knowledge that before nightfall she might have to remove a dead mouse or rat from a kitchen trap.

A whole generation of Americans grew up thinking that 48 stars were just about the right number for the flag, and that there probably never would be any more in it.

The choicest morsels of town gossip were usually exchanged by women while cooling themselves with cardboard fans at a church social. The fans had been given to them "free gratis" as the saying went, by the local grocery store or funeral parlor.

Even if he couldn't hold a steady job, a fellow could avoid the reputation of being shiftless as long as he could convince people he was taking a correspondence school course to prepace himself for something better.

One of the troubles with going on a Sunday drive in the early days of motoring was that you had to stop and put up the isinglass curtains when it rained.

A girl usually made her own high school graduation dress and got a gold-plated wristwatch for a present, and when she took her diploma every member of the family shed a tear.

No one ever thought of shutting the village idiot up in an institution. After all, he was the most-quoted fellow in town and certainly the only one without a single enemy.

Those were the days—remember?

India to Blame for E. Pakistan Revolt, Pakistani Declare

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — The Pakistani government has sent a trio of special envoys to sell its version of the civil war in East Pakistan to governments in Europe and the Western Hemisphere.

The line they're trying to put across, in London, at least, is that India is to blame for the rebellion in East Pakistan that threatens to split the nation politically, as it already is divided geographically.

Senior diplomats reported today that former President Mohammad Ayub Khan, who turned the presidency over to Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan two years ago, is the emissary to the United States and Canada. He is ostensibly going to Cleveland for medical attention, but according to information here, he will also see officials in Washington and Ottawa in an attempt to rally their understanding and sympathy to Yahya's policy.

The envoy to Europe is former Foreign Minister Arshad Hussain, who saw Prime Minister Edward Heath in London last week. Hussain charged that India instigated Sheik Mujibur Rahman, the leader of the Bengali nation movement in East Pakistan.

He also claimed that West Pakistani forces had restored control in the eastern sector. Informed sources reported that, in response to questions about the entry of international relief teams, Hussain insisted Yahya's government would tolerate no outside intervention.

The sources said Heath urged a speedy end to the fighting and efforts for a political solution.

Hussain went on to Pris and Moscow. The Soviet Union has become increasingly critical of Yahya's offensive against the rebels.

Informants reported a third Pakistani envoy went quietly to Communist China in the past week. They were unable to identify him. There have been press reports that Pakistan is talking with Red China about additional economic and military aid, and the commander of the Pakistani air force's staff college has been visiting Peking with a group of instructors and cadets.

The United States, Britain, the Soviet Union and Red China all have been helping the Pakistani government, and none wants to diminisn its influence. But public opinion, at least in Western countries, has become increasingly agitated at the continuation of bloodshed, often through the use of Western weapons.

Construction Racial Hiring Next Step

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration soon will impose racial hiring plans on construction unions and companies in Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco and Atlanta. Similar action may follow in 15 other cities, it has been learned.

At present there are only two such mandatory federal racial hiring plans, in Philadelphia and Washington, D.C., under which contractors could lose federal construction work for failure to comply.

Dollar Deals Embargoed in Europe

Associated Press Writer

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The government banks of West Germany and four other nations suspended trade in dollars today, trying to check speculators who are swapping American currency for West German marks in expectation the mark will be revalued upward.

International monetary authorities began consulting on ways to stem the flow of U.S. dollars to Europe, creating the worst European financial crisis since 1969.

One way to stop this is to revise upward the value of the mark, and this may be considered at a meeting of the West German Cabinet in Bonn on Friday.

The U.S. Treasury was ready to help. The government will offer special securities for purchase by holders of dollars in Europe, thus soaking up excess American currency.

"As necessary, the United States is prepared to raise additional funds in the Eurodollar market and to assist with appropriate investment outlets for foreign central banks," Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally said in a statement.

Informants in London said consultations were already under way and the involved British, French, West German and other European monetary authorities and the U.S. Federal Reserve System in Washington.

West Germany's Central Bank led off the movement. Government banks of Switzerland, the Netherlands, Austria and Belgium followed. Some, including the West German bank, halted all trading in foreign countries. Others stopped dealing in marks.

Poll by McClellan Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Tuesday he never had a political poll taken for him and that as far as he knew now, he did not intend to have a poll taken.

McClellan's remark was in response to a report by syndicated columnist Marianne Means that Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., would oppose McClellan in 1972. The columnist also said that "McClellan is so worried he has ordered a private poll taken of his prospects."

Aliens Drawing U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of aliens illegally in the United States are holding jobs or receiving unemployment compensation and other federal benefits, the chairman of the House immigration subcommittee said today.

Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., said the flood of illegal aliens is aggravating the unemployment situation and helping to depress wages.

In many instances, he said, aliens are being aided by Americans who hire them at substandard wages.

In remarks prepared for the opening of hearings on admission of aliens into the United States, Rodino presented several examples of foreigners working illegally.

In one case, he said, a man who entered the country illegally is receiving a $69.50 weekly training payment from the federal government to attend a welding school.

He said another, who saved $6,000 during illegal employment as a meatcutter, is being paid $69 a week in unemployment compensation. Still another, he said, after working illegally for more than a year as a machine operator, is receiving $55 a week from the government while attending an electronics training course.

"It is no wonder," said Rodino, "that aliens surreptitiously cross our borders without inspection and misrepresent their true purpose when applying for visitors' visas."

Rodino said a major cause of the problem is inability of the Immigration and Naturalization Service to keep track of aliens, due mainly to a personnel shortage.

Another factor, he said, is the connivance of American employers in hiring illegal aliens either as domestic servants or for jobs at low wages. The feat of discovery and deportation keeps the aliens from complaining about being exploited," he said.

Rodino said there also appears to be a lack of cooperation between the Immigration and Naturalization Service and other federal agencies in identifying aliens participating in government-sponsored programs.

Arkla Cost Figures Challenged

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Washington utilities rate consultant told the state Public Service Commission Tuesday that the costs incurred by Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. in serving its large industrial customers had been overstated in a study prepared by D. L. Nichol, a Dallas utility consultant.

Henry Herz of Washington had been hired by Arkansas Power & Light Co. to dispute the cost of service study.

Nichol's study was used in preparing a proposed rate schedule that Arkla contends should replace its existing negotiated contracts with large industries for the sale of naural gas. The PSC is considering withdrawing its approval of the long-term contracts.

Integration Plans Change for 3

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Tuesday ordered the Little Rock, North Little Rock and El Dorado school boards to prepare new desegregation plans for the 1971-72 school year which comply with the "guidelines and teachings of the U.S. Supreme Court."

The Court of Appeals vacated the desegregation plans now being used in all three school districts and sent the cases back to the federal district judges of Arkansas for another series of hearings on new plans.

Welfare Pay Is Raised by $5

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers announced Tuesday that more than 89,400 welfare recipients in the state would receive a $5 per month raise beginning June 1.

The increase will raise the maximum grant in the adult categories to $105 per month.

Bumpers said the increase would apply to all categories of welfare recipients, including aid to families of dependent children. The General Assembly had budgeted the increase to be made during the next fiscal year but that he was advancing it to June 1 so that welfare recipients would not lose the effect of an increase in Social Security payments on June 1.

The raise will add about $452,320 a month to welfare payments in Arkansas. Most of the increased cost will be paid by federal welfare payments and Social Security. The extra cost to the state will be about $50,000 a month.

If the increase were not effective June 1, about 60,000 recipients who also receive Social Security would not receive an increase in income when a 10 per cent increase in Social Security benefits goes into effect.

Welfare grants are used to supplement other income to reach the needs of a person or family. If the maximum grant were left at $100, a person receiving a $6 increase in Social Security benefits would have his welfare grant reduced by the same amount. The increase means that the total income of a recipient will be raised by $5 per month.

Cool, With Showers, Is Forecast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold front is expected to move eastward into Arkansas tonight touching off showers and thundershowers.

The precipitation was expected to begin in the western portion of the state this afternoon.

Skies are expected to clear Thursday with slightly cooler temperatures forecast.

Highs Tuesday were mostly in the 70s with highs today predicted in the 80s. Maximum temperatures Thursday are forecast in the mid 70s to low 80s.

U.S. Arms to Pakistan Misused

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says American tanks and jets sent to West Pakistan to protect against attack from China have been used to help crush insurgents in East Pakistan.

The action by Pakistan's central government was taken despite secret diplomatic pressure from the United States, according to the department.

The statements were made in a letter from David M. Abshire, assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, to four senators who had asked for information on the status of U.S. military and economic aid to Pakistan.

In a related move, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee is expected to take up a proposal Thursday by Sens. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., and Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., to suspend U.S. military aid and sales to Pakistan until the conflict between the central government and secessionists in the Bengali region is resolved.

Abshire's letter said the United States has supplied Pakistan only with nonlethal equipment, spare parts and ammunition since the 1965 India-Pakistan war.

He said nothing has been delivered on last October's announced sale of "a limited quantity of lethal end-items including 300 armored personnel carriers, a few replacement bomber and interceptor aircraft and several maritime patrol aircraft." Talks of their delivery have been in suspension since the March 25 outbreak of fighting in East Pakistan.

Abshire said: "Department spokesmen have expressed our concern over the reported use of American weapons and we have done so privately to the Pakistanis as well.

"The reports which we have received indicate that M-24 tanks and F-86 aircraft have been observed in use in East Pakistan in recent weeks.

Screams Heard From the Abyss

CHICOUTIMI, Quebec (AP) — At least 20 persons are believed dead and another 20 missing following an earth cave-in Tuesday night at St. Jean Vianney, 10 miles from Chicoutimi, civil defense officials reported today.

About 35 houses, several cars and a bus were plunged into a pit 20 feet across and 200 feet deep when the earth opened up. Rescue workers early today reported hearing screams from the buried houses. A hospital at nearby Jonquiere said about 20 persons were treated for shock.

At least 200 civil defense personnel, provincial police and loial townspeople were hampered in the rescue effort by driving rain and a moonless night.

A police spokesman said operations also were impeded by traffic jams caused by sightseers. But traffic was later blocked off from the area.

A civil defense spokesman said about 100 houses close to the cave-in were evacuated.

A helicopter from the Canadian army base at Bagotville hovered over the scene. A portable lighting system was flown in from Quebec City, 115 miles to the south.

An operations officer at Bagotville said the helicopter reported three houses standing at the bottom of the pit, but no signs of occupants was reported.

Mud at the bottom of the pit was so deep that it would seriously impede rescue operations, he said.

St. Jean Vianney has a population of 2,000 people.

The village is on the banks of the Saguenay River, which has been swollen by spring runoff for the last couple of weeks.

It was raining heavily when the cave-in occurred.

One village said the cave-in happened without warning. There were some small landslides 10 days ago, one to four miles from the site of the cave-in, he said.

It was the province's third serious landslide in five months.

Death Sentence Commuted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The death sentence of Dewey Ray Murray, 19, was commuted Tuesday to life in prison by Gov. Dale Bumpers.

The state Pardons and Paroles Board had recommended that Murray's sentence be commuted.

This was the first commutation for Bumpers. Shortly before leaving office, ex-Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller reduced the sentences of 15 men on Death Row to life.

Murray was convicted of first-degree murder in St. Francis County in September 1969.

Hearing for Miss Bacon Put Off

SEATTLE (AP) — Judge George Boldt has postponed a closed hearing in U.S. District Court on a federal government motion to compel Leslie Bacon to answer questions about the bombing of a New York bank.

Miss Bacon, is being held as a material witness in lieu of $100,000 bond in connection with the March 1 bombing of the U.S. Capitol. She was brought to Seattle last week to testify before a federal grand jury and was questioned by the panel for four days.

Water Under Rationing in Florida

MIAMI (AP) — Water rationing has taken effect in drought-parched South Florida and Gov. Reubin Askew is considering a request to ban the public from the tinder-dry, smoking Everglades.

John Bethea, director of the state division of forestry, asked the governor Tuesday for a law banning everyone but land owners and those with essential business from the three-million-acre wilderness of sawgrass and timber.

State officials say 7,366 fires have blackened 560,518 acres in South Florida this year, many of them caused by careless campers during the state's record-breaking drought.

"One of the main causes of fire is the tremendous number of swamp buggies and people in there," Bethea said. He said two major fires in Collier County over the weekend were traced to a hunting camp and a swamp buggy.

Askew said he would give serious consideration to Bethea's proposal.

"I want to explore the ramifications of it before I make such a request to the legislature, because it's a very drastic action," he said. "To my knowledge, it's never been done before."

The National Weather Service said the drought as become the worst in the state's history. Only 2.04 inches of rain have fallen on South Florida in the past six months, compared with a previous record low of slightly more than six inches in 1946-47.

An eight-county area in South and Central Florida has been placed under water restrictions which include bans on lawn watering and car washing.

Garrett Sloan, director of the Miami Water Department, said people apparently were obeying the water-restriction regulations.

He said the department Tuesday pumped 175 million gallons of water from its well field, compared with 196 million gallons on the same day last week.

Clifford O'Key, city manager in Miami Beach, ordered a 25 per cent reduction in water use at city facilities, previously running 38 million gallons a day.

Marchers to Move on the Congress

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a force buckled by more than 10,000 arrests and their strategy twice dissolved by massive police action, antiwar protesters still hadn't given up today. Congress was the new target.

Militant leaders exhorted a diehard following, many suffering hunger and fatigue, to a march on the Capitol for a noon rally-similar to one waged at the Justice Department Tuesday in which 2,200 persons were arrested.

Rennie Davis, himself just released from jail on $25,000 bond, vowed at a Tuesday night planning session to "hold the Congress hostage until they end the war."

Although neither Davis nor their organizers had said what tactics would be employed, it was clear most were not anxious for a third test of their guerrilla-like design to close streets and government facilities.

With more than 1,000 Marines and Army troops posted at bridges and traffic circles, rush-hour traffic moved without a hitch again today.

Nixon for Loan to Boeing

By H.L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon apparently has decided to risk a stiff congressional fight over federal loan guarantees to stave off collapse of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., the nation's No. 1 defense contractor.

But there are indications on Capitol Hill the battle may be over how—not whether—to provide the guarantees that could save 25,000 jobs.

Following a breakfast meeting with the President Tuesday, House and Senate Republican leaders said legislation providing $250 million in guarantees is expected within two weeks.

Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, House Republican whip, said there was no disagreement at the White House session over giving aid to the Burbank, Calif., company, jolited earlier this year when Rolls Royce Lt., British maker of engines for Lockheed's L1011 airliner, went into reorganization.

Members in Crusade on Cancer Vital

"Joining the physicians, scientists and nurses who man the big guns in the battle against cancer, American Cancer Society service volunteers behind the lines bring the patient hope, help and cheer," declared Douglas Drake, Service Chairman of the Hope Unit of the ACS.

"Often the value of our service program is increased because the volunteers have had personal experience with cancer," Mr. Drake said. "Their goal is to assist patients achieve the greatest results in both their physical and psychological rehabilitation," he said in announcing the ACS 1971 educational and fund-raising Crusade beginning April 1.

"Women who've recently undergone breast surgery go through a time of low spirits, of self-doubt and even fear," he said. "Our Reach to Recovery program volunteers—women who have had similar surgery—after the doctor's approval, visit patients while they're still hospitalized to bring assurance that recovery is possible, that their appearance can be normal and that they can again enjoy former activities. They also bring practical suggestions about exercise and clothing and other personal hints that aid readjustment."

Kay Coleman Initiated Into Thetas

MAGNOLIA—Kay Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N.B. Coleman of Rt. 1 Fulton, was one of 29 Southern State College students initiated into the Arkansas Theta chapter of Alpha Chi, national scholastic fraternity, May 4.

KAY COLEMAN

Election to Alpha Chi is the highest scholastic honor achievable at Southern State and membership is limited to juniors and seniors ranking in the upper ten percent of their classes and approved by a faculty committee.

Installing the new members were sponsors Dr. George Sixbey, humanities chairman; Dr. Wesley Childers, head of the foreign languages department, and associate professor of biology Avalee Cox. Officers assisting were president Nancy Murphy of El Dorado; vice president Bart Reed, also of El Dorado; secretary Judy Willisma of Mt. Holly; treasurer Curtis Marshall of Camden and Alvin Barker of Magnolia, regional council representative.

Miss Coleman, a 1968 graduate of Hope High School, is a junior medical technology major at Southern State, where she is president of Harrod Hall, a Student Senate representative and member of the Association of Women Students, Women's Recreation Association, and the Chemistry and Biology Clubs.

Bloodmobile Returns on May 10, 11

Under the present formula for Red Cross blood distribution, 20 per cent of all the blood collected in each county goes to the Veterans Hospital in Little Rock. When you give blood to the Red Cross, you not only protect yourself and your family, but you also assure the veterans of Arkansas a supply of blood for various needs.

Haskell Jones, Red Cross Blood Mobile Chairman, reminds Hempstead Countians that the Bloodmobile will return next Monday and Tuesday, May 10 and 11, for a two-day visit and 240 pints are needed to make the trip and the year successful, since this is the concluding visit of the current fiscal year.

The hours are from 12 noon to 6: p.m. on both days. It takes about 45 minutes to give a pint of blood, but it may add years to somebody's life. Will you be a donor this trip?

CONSTRUCTION

you impose federal action?" asked a highly placed government source in discussing the decision, which is being timed with the annual spring spurt in construction work.

St. Louis and Chicago had worked out voluntary plans through extensive negotiations among federal, union, industry, civil rights and city officials after complaints from Negro groups and, in some cases, violent clashes between militants and construction workers on job sites.

The 17 AFL-CIO construction unions representing 3 million workers have bitterly fought compulsory hiring, saying they are making enough progress on their own against job discrimination.

The cities getting mandatory federal hiring plans are those in which the Labor Department has held hearings on racial hiring practices and problems in the construction industry.

The department reportedly will hold hearings, possibly leading to similar mandatory plans in Boston, Buffalo, Cincinnati, Denver, Detroit, Houston, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Miami, Milwaukee, Newark, New Orleans, New York and Seattle.

Apportion Plan Near, Says Bumpers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Tuesday that he thinks the state Board of Apportionment has come up with a legislative redistricting plan that is "essentially fair."

Bumpers told an impromptu news conference that he probably would call a meeting of the board Friday to take final action on a reapportionment plan.

The governor said that board members had encountered difficulty in drawing district boundaries that did not cross county lines. He said maps that have been produced for the proposed redistricting of the state Senate would leave intact the boundaries of 54 counties.

Asked if there was a chance he would not appoint Dr. J. T. Herron to head the newly created Department of Health under the state governmental reorganization plan, Bumpers said, "There is a chance, but not a very strong one." Herron, as state health officer, now heads the department and the Board of Health has nominated him to become director of the reorganized agency.

Bumpers met with Herron in the governor's office Tuesday and Bumpers said the discussion related to Herron's position. The governor said there was some discussion about the fact that the salary of the Health Department director was not raised as much as the pay of some of the other directors of the 13 principal departments created by the reorganization plan.

On another topic, the governor said Monday's U.S. Supreme Court ruling that a jury may decide both guilt and punishment in death penalty cases in a single sitting "had not really met the issue" of the constitutionality of capital punishment.

The governor said, however, that he thought the decision might be a "prelude of what's to come," which he thought would be a ruling by the court upholding capital punishment.

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Capt. Ejnar Mikkelsen, 90, Danish arctic explorer and author, died Tuesday. The recipient of the Knight of Dannebrog, the highest Danish honor, Mikkelsen joined his first expedition at age 19 and later led several expeditions, including the Anglo-American trek in North Alaska in 1906-08.

CHICAGO (AP) — Robert Pollak, 67, stockbroker, musician and former drama critic for the Chicago Sun-Times, died Tuesday. He had been drama critic for the Sun-Times and its predecessor, the Chicago Times, for 20 years prior to his retirement in 1950.

5 Tons of Marijuana Taken

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Armed federal officers who chased and boarded a converted shrimp boat have reported finding five tons of marijuana on the vessel.

Customs Commissioner Myles Ambrose said Tuesday it was the largest single marijuana seizure in U.S. history, with a retail value of nearly $1.4 million.

The marijuana was found in 333 plastic-covered cloth bags stowed throughout the 60-foot boat. Each bag contained 20 to 70 pounds of the drug, officers said.

U.S. Customs and Coast Guard personnel with drawn guns boarded the Mercy Wiggins after a 20-minute chase in the Pacific off the Golden Gate.

Agents carted most of the marijuana away to be burned. Some was saved for use as evidence.

Two persons were arrested on the Mercy Wiggins late Monday. At the same time a 38-foot companion yacht, the Andiamo, was seized in nearby San Pablo Bay by another armed party which made two more arrests.

In a third phase of the coordinated move, four persons were arrested at a bus-type camper at the San Francisco Marina.

The six men and two women were charged in complaints filed by government attorneys at San Diego with conspiracy to import and smuggle marijuana.

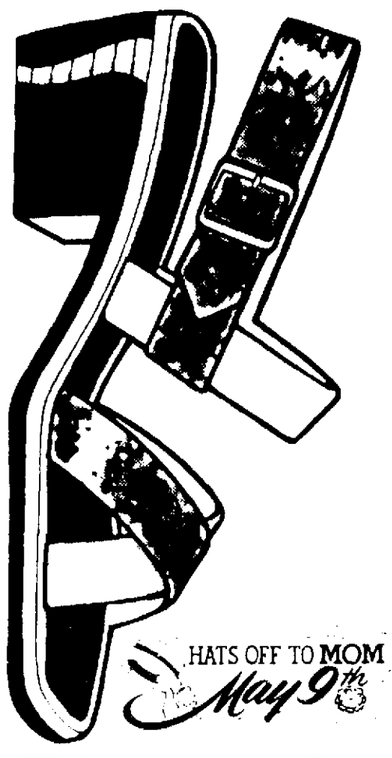

U.S. magistrate Harry McCue in San Diego set bail at $100,000 each for James Olson, 36, of Captain Cook, Hawaii, and Richard Michael King, 42, of San Diego, also known as Richard Hansen.

McCue set $50,000 bail each for Virginia Marie Pope, 52, and John Ferris Pope, 53, of Kealakekua, Hawaii; Gordon Maack, 38, of Kailua, Kona, Hawaii; James Russell Vukich, 25, of San Diego; Robert Craig Light, 30, of South Seattle, Wash.; and Miki D. Thieda, 25, of LaJolla, Calif.

John Van Diver, special customs agent in charge on the San Diego district, said the seizure followed a year-long investigation in cooperation with San Diego police.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

COUNTRY MOUSE, CIT RAT

Dear Helen:

Some big-city refugees moved in near us, and they definitely aren't "Oregon-ized."

It seems city people are woefully lacking in good manners. I can stand their constant bragging, name-dropping, depreciatory remarks about our "backwoods existence," and amusement at our "corniness," but I DO like my privacy.

This woman, when she drops over for a visit, comes quietly to the door, barely taps, then peeps in the window! In my country ignorance, I've always thought it proper to knock loudly, then examine the far horizon until someone came.

City people arrive here with the idea that we are dying of loneliness. They regard us as stupid for living in the sticks, which amazes me, as they chose it, too. They seem bored because there is nothing to do, can't manage for themselves, consider nature their enemy, and can't live without shopping centers. Not all, but the big majority.

Without being accused of unfriendliness, how can we set these transplants straight?—STARTLED OREGONIAN

Dear Oregonian:

Having been both a country mouse and a city mouse, I know there's smugness on both sides. While transplants lack tact and "country manners," rural people are often too quick to take offense.

Give these city folks a couple of months to get Oregonized. When the well goes dry (it always does!) and you can't get a picture on TV, and skunks invade your attic (they always do!) and the nearest store is 10 miles away, ex-urbanites can get pretty vocal about "hick towns and local yokels." Set 'em straight gently and remember you'd have trouble adjusting to city life with its noise and confusion—and you'd also make remarks you later regret. I did!—H.

Dear Helen:

This is to "Doublechin at 18" who wonders if "singing exercises" will keep it from getting worse.

I have been studying voice for 20 years, and can't give her much hope there. Singing leads to a bigger double chin. But, on the plus side, you develop tremendous breath control, and the muscles of your chest and abdomen are tight.

If you enjoy singing as I do, don't let a little thing like a fat chin worry you.—MR. MIDDLE-AGED TENOR

Dear Helen:

I met this fascinating man a month ago and last night he asked me to marry him. Then he tossed the bombshell.

It seems he's been invited to join a Swingers' Club but they only take married couples because you're not supposed to get emotionally involved with the people you "swing" with—and singles might.

He says this is the modern way and don't knock it until I've tried it—a lot of very respectable people are swingers. Should I get married just so I can become good swapping material?—

June Rollings wrote a wonderful piece entitled . . . "What Is A Woman". We have chosen excerpts from it and are passing it along to you and our title would probably be . . . "What A Mother Is".

She is a shrewd shopper, clips coupons, licks stamps, plays bingo. She is a nurse, psychiatrist, good talker, mediator. She monitors TV and radio programs. She is in P.T.A. and clubs galore.

She answers phones, writes letters, pracifies bill collectors, in-laws, husbands and children.

She feeds dogs, cats, cleans bird cages, gives baths, empties garbage, weeds flowers and diets.

She yells, screams, whispers, pleads, orders and begs. She not only bears her children, but she accepts the tremendous responsibility of rearing them.

She is logical, calm, wise and foolish. She laughs at herself and cries with her family. She draws them all together with a love so beautiful and so great that the most important question in any home is . . . "Where is Mother?" And then in the quiet time she bends her knee to God and asks him for strength and guidance to begin again tomorrow.

We salute you Mothers . . . and thank you for shopping at

Chickens Outnumber People—Until Big Wedding Draws Crowd

By CHET CURRIER
Associated Press Writer

ONAGA, Kan. (AP) — The chickens still out number the children at David Hund's egg farm in Paxico, Lan., but the margin was noticeably narrowed Monday night.

With 200 relatives and friends crowded into the small Roman Catholic church here, Hund, a 45-year-old widower with 11 children, married Patricia Ebert, Onaga, the widowed mother of 12.

All 23 children were present and each had a part in the proceedings. The oldest, Barbara Turner, 22, Waverly, Tenn., was her mother's matron of honor, while the youngest, 2-year-old Janet Hund, served as flower girl.

This farm community of about 1,000 had seen few social events to rival the wedding.

"Certainly, they'll be talking about this for generations to come," observed the Rev. Tom Kearns, one of the five priests who cocelebrated the 40-minute mass. "But mostly they're happy for Pat."

Since her first husband's death in a highway accident here eight years ago, the new Mrs. Hund had held two jobs, as a registered nurse and the supervisor of a nursing home, while raising her children in a house just two doors from the church where she was married Monday.

Now she has left both jobs and plans to concentrate on the tasks presented by her husband's sizable farm and the 20 children—and the 40,000 chickens—who'll be living there.

Hund seemed not at all overwhelmed at the size of his clan. At the reception, he calmly carried out a newsman's request to identify each of the children for the television camera.

Bobcats Make It 8 Wins in a Row

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Hope High School Bobcats are still undefeated after winning their eighth straight, but it didn't come too easy.

After going scoreless for the first four innings, and the Cale Red Devils holding a slim 1-0 lead, the Bobcats began to connect, and went on to win a 7-2 decision.

Hope opened the fifth inning with singles by Bill Rowland, Tim White, Paul Young, and Sidney Waller. A walk and a free ride to first base by Bubba Powers, after getting hit, accounted for the tying and leading runs.

With Rowland, the starting Bobcat hurler, still going strong, Cale was set down, one, two, three.

After two flies to center, Tim White unloaded a double, Paul Young a single, and Sidney Waller brought both of them in with a slicing triple to right-center field.

Three straight walks brought Waller trotting to the plate and after the third out, Hope held a 5-1 lead with one more inning to bat.

Holding Cale for nothing, the Cats scored two more runs in the seventh, while the Red Devils managed one in their half of the inning.

Rowland was the winning pitcher, going the distance, giving up only two hits while striking out 13 batters.

Thursday the Cats travel to Texarkana for a crucial game with the Razorbacks to test that unbeaten string of eight straight.

Canonero Waiting on Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — Canonero II, the surprise winner of the Kentucky Derby, is stabled at Pimlico, awaiting the arrival of challengers for the $150,000-added Preakness on May 15.

The Kentucky-bred colt, who campaigned in Venezuela before romping to a 3¾ length victory over 19 rivals last Saturday, arrived on the grounds Tuesday after a 14-hour van trip from Louisville.

Canonero II was to be galloped today by an exercise boy while trainer Juan Arias awaited the arrival of jockey Gustavo Avila.

Avila was in New York Tuesday, and he is due to ride back home in Caracas during the weekend before heading for Pimlico.

Pimlico officials listed 22 probable starters for the 1 3-16 mile Preakness Tuesday, but the number should be reduced by Saturday's Withers Stakes at Aqueduct and a couple of Preakness preps.

One probable dropped by the wayside Tuesday, when A.A. Seeligson Jr. reported by telephone from California that his colt, Unconscious, would have to be withdrawn.

"He didn't come out of the Derby too well," Seeligson said. "He suffered a milk ankle injury. A light blister will be applied to the ankle, but he is not expected to be out of training too long."

Unconscious was the betting favorite in the 1½ mile Derby, but finished fifth in the 20-horse field.

Coaches Switching Schools

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick "Digger" Phelps from Fordham to Notre Dame and Charles "Chuck" Daly from Boston College to Pennsylvania.

These are the latest moves in the game of musical chairs that the nation's college basketball coaches have been playing for the last month.

The switch of the 29-year-old Phelps, who brought national prominence to Fordham during the 1971 season, was announced at South Bend, Ind. Tuesday by Moose Krause, director of athletics at Notre Dame.

It followed the announcement in Philadelphia that the 40-year-old Daly had been named Penn's head coach to succeed Dick Harter who had resigned to accept a similar post at Oregon. Phelps succeeds Johnny Dee who resigned at Notre Dame to resume private law practice at Denver.

These developments brought to at least 20 the number of recent coaching changes in the college ranks.

On Monday Dick Lloyd was named head coach at Rutgers to succeed Bill Foster who had resigned to take Jack Gardner's place at Utah.

Other coaching changes saw Musselman of Ashland, Ohio, College replaced George Nelson at Minnesota, Bob Knight of Army was named to succeed Lou Watson at Indiana University, Jim Richards took over for Johnny Oldman at Western Kentucky and Denny Crum, an assistant at UCLA, succeeded John Dromo at Louisville.

Other changes included Dan Fogherty as the new coach at Navy, Dick Campbell at Xavier of Ohio, Ron Mitchell, at Boston University, Harry Miller at Wichita State from North Texas State, George Hill at The Citadel from Coast Guard Academy and Ray Haesler at Drexel Tech as successor to Frank Szymanski who went to Baltimore U.

Glen Anderson was let go at Iowa State, Dan Glines resigned at San Jose State and Bob Reese was fired as coach at Catholic U. and the Denver Post reported Tuesday that Bob Spear is stepping down as coach at the Air Force Academy.

Bodcaw Pee Wees Win Final

The Bodcaw Boys Pee Wee Basketball Team won the Boys Pee Wee Tournament held at Blevins last week by defeating Emmet 41 to 25.

The Pee Wee's finished the season with nine wins and two losses.

Playing on the team were fifth and sixth graders Jerry Hollin, Phillip McKinney, Bruce Porter, Ricky Rogers, and Rickey Ward. Third and fourth graders were Clifton Clark, Steve Dillard, Steven Rogers, Dale Tatum, Kenny Hicks, John Ward, and Glen Hollin.

The team was coached by Bobby Henerson.

San Diego Develops 2 Bat Stars

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alphonse—Gaston? No, Colbert—Gaston.

San Diego's superific swatters, Nate Colbert and Clarence Gaston, are falling over each other in an attempt to play the hero's role.

Gaston delivered the game-tying home run, his second of the night, and Colbert followed with a solo shot in an eight-inning rally that carried the Padres past Atlanta 3-2 Tuesday night.

Oaston, whose 29 home runs last year was second to Colbert's 38 on the club, had only delivered two circuit clouts this season until Tuesday's output.

While the recuperation appeared to do some good for Gaston, Colbert continued his assault on the fences with hardly any rest at all. He slept little since Monday because of his new-born daughter.

Colbert, after driving his wife, Carol, to the hospital to deliver Dana Michelle, got back home Tuesday morning to find their 17-month-old son, Derone, running through the house looking for his mother.

"I played with him all morning to keep him from crying," said Colbert. "We finally lay down for a nap after noon. I slept 20 minutes and that was all. I was too keyed up."

The New York Mets nipped the Chicago Cubs 2-1; St. Louis routed Philadelphia 7-3; Los Angeles stopped Cincinnati 2-0 and Pittsburgh blasted San Francisco 10-2 in the other National League games. Rain postponed Houston at Milwaukee.

American League scores: Kansas City 2, Cleveland 0; Baltimore 4, California 1; Milwaukee 2, Washington 0; Minnesota 6, New York 5 in 10 innings; Boston 4, Chicago 3, and Detroit 6, Oakland 5.

Gaston, who credited last year's fine season to a blazing getaway, is nowhere near the form that delivered a .318 average, 93 RBI and a bunch of team-leading statistics.

Gaston, who earlier lined his third homer of the year to give San Diego a 1-0 lead in the first inning, jumped on another Pat Jarvis pitch with one out in the eighth. Then Colbert unloaded his seventh circuit of the year.

Mike Lum slammed a homer in the second inning to give Atlanta a 1-1 tie, then the Braves went ahead on Sonny Jackson's run-scoring single with two outs in the seventh.

Bud Harrelson singled home the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning to give New York its third straight victory and eighth in nine games. Until that juncture, the only scoring had been Bob Aspromonte's home run in the New York second and Johnny Callison's run-scoring double in the Chicago fifth.

Chicago wasted a big scoring opportunity in the eighth. Ray Sadecki took over for New York starter Nolan Ryan and walked Callison, who took third on Joe Pepitone's single to right.

Callison was trapped off third on an infield tap, but Aspromonte held Danny Breeden's bouncer too long and the bases were loaded with one out. Danny Frisella relieved Sadecki and got the final outs on a pop foul and a roller.

Jose Cardenal drove in three runs with a double and homer and Jerry Reuss weaved a six-hitter for St. Louis.

The Cardinals scored two runs in the fourth inning on consecutive doubles by Ted Simmons, Joe Torre and Cardenal. Julian Javier's home run made it 3-0 St. Louis in the fifth, before Philadelphia came back with a pair of runs in its half of the frame. Then the Cardinals routed Phillies' starter Chris Short in the sixth as Torre walked and Cardenal blasted his second homer of the year.

Al Downing allowed just three hits and pitched his first National League shutout in the Los Angeles cause. Downing, acquired from Milwaukee during the offseason, scattered a pair of singles by Hal McRae and another by Dave Concepcion in notching his third victory in four decisions.

The Pirates took a 3-2 lead in the seventh on a run-scoring double by Richie Hebner and run-producing single by Roberto Clemente before the big [illegible] when they sent [illegible] the plate.

Turbine Car May Yet Run in 'Indy'

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Andy Granatelli may win that turbine race car argument after all.

Frank Del Roy, technical supervisor for the United States Auto Club, said today he will recommend that the size limit on turbines be increased "to where they will be competitive."

Parnelli Jones was making a joke of the 1967 Indianapolis 500-mile race, passing anybody whenever he pleased, when a bearing in his Granatelli-owned turbine engine failed with 10 miles to go.

The USAC rules committee promptly cut the maximum annulus area for a turbine from 22 to 14.999 square inches. This is the entrance to the first-stage compressor in a system that squeezes air, heats it and produces a rocket effect against turbine wheels geared to the drive wheels.

Granatelli complained, but put the choked-down Pratt & Whitney engine into his STP car and Joe Leonard took the wheel. He set an Indianapolis Motor Speedway qualifying record of 171.953 m.p.h., which still stands, and apparently had the 1968 race won when a fuel pump shaft broke.

The USAC committee got out its tin snips again and cut the turbine air port to 11.999 inches. Granatelli gave up and returned to conventional piston engines for his fleet of race cars. There was no turbine engine of that size in production.

If the committee goes along with Del Roy, the change won't go into effect until 1973.

Jack Adams of Memphis, Tenn., wouldn't quit, however, and he has a little Allison 250 turbine engine in a 500 entry driven by Rick Muther of Laguna Beach, Calif.

It has an annulus area of 12.5 inches, cut back to the limit by a metal ring. Adams says the interference with the air intake reduces its efficiency 15 to 20 per cent.

The Adams car qualified for three USAC championship races last year but never won.

Muther told Mike Mosley, winner of last Sunday's Trenton 200, "You ought to take a ride in the Adams turbine. There's absolutely no vibration and no heat for the driver. It's a great experience."

Palmer and Nicklaus Favored

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Old rivals Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, who tied for first place in this event a year ago, ranked as the co-favorites today on the eve of the opening round of the $125,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

Nicklaus edged Palmer on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff for the title last year and the 41-year-old Palmer would like nothing better than to avenge that loss, the closest he came to taking a championship in 1970.

He's bounced back from that winless season—the first of his pro career, with two victories and over $103,000 already this season.

But the 31-year-old Nicklaus has been just a little better. Big Jack tops the money winners with more than $106,000. He's won twice—the PGA and the Tournament of Champions two weeks ago when he scored by eight strokes—and was second in the Masters.

Nicklaus, back from a week's rest, has accumulated his leading money total in only eight appearances, an average of more than $13,000 a tourney.

Both were late arrivals and neither managed to get in a practice round Tuesday on the 7,086-yard, par-70 Preston Trail Golf Club course, a layout that was swept with winds in the 25-40-mile-an-hour range.

Should that wind continue, the favorite's role could shift to Lee Trevino acknowledged by most of his fellow pros as the best wind player on the tour.

Trevino, a winner at Tallahassee two weeks ago, was greatly disappointed when he played badly last week, but got to Dallas early to practice early in his home town.

Some other standouts in the strong field of 147 include Masters champion Charles Coody, Frank Beard, and the man he beat by a single stroke for the Greater New Orleans Open title last Sunday, rookie Hubert Green.

Also on hand are such former champions as Bruce Devlin, Miller Barber and Don January.

Billy Casper and Argentine ace Roberto de Vincenzo withdrew. De Vincenzo telephoned that he was ill and could not compete. Casper still is bothered by bursitis in his hip which forced him out of last week's New Orleans Open.

Tennis Greats Meet at Rome

ROME (AP) — Top-seeded John Newcombe of Australia faced 19-year-old Italian Vincenzo Franchitti as the world's top tennis stars joined singles play in the Italian International Open Tournament today.

Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., the second seed, was pitted against Adriano Panatta, at 20, Italy's best tennis player.

The first round of the men's singles action Tuesday saw the elimination of 11 out of 18 professionals. Of those who survived the first round, Roger Taylor of Britain had the toughest task. He was pitted against seventh-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia.

The title this year carries $45,000 in prizes, and precious points for the world professional competition. It was the sixth of the 20-event tournament. Newcombe leads the standings with 33 points, followed by Ashe with 25.

Australian star Rod Laver, who is nursing a bad shoulder, has been a finalist in two of the previous five championship events, but lost. He trained her morning, afternoon and evening to be ready for the competition.

Twins Win, Cleveland Is a Loser

By dick couch
Associated Press Sports Writer

The wheel of fortune has taken two heartening turns for the Minnesota Twins—and a sickening twist for the Cleveland Indians.

Minnesota tied the New York Yankees on Rod Carew's home run with two out in the ninth inning Tuesday night and then beat them 6-5 on Jim Holt's two-out homer in the 10th.

The Indians bowed to Kansas City 2-0 and also lost pitcher luckless Steve Hargan for at least six weeks with a broken right ankle.

In another American League action, Baltimore trimmed California 4-1, Boston edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3, Detroit nipped Oakland 6-5 and Milwaukee blanked Washington 2-0.

In the National League, the New York Mets slipped past the Chicago Cubs 2-1, Pittsburgh smashed San Francisco 10-2, Los Angeles topped Cincinnati 2-0, San Diego upended Atlanta 3-2 and St. Louis whipped Philadelphia 7-3. Montreal and Houston were rained out.

Lindy McDaniel came out of the New York bullpen after the Yankees had struck for two runs in the top on the ninth to take a 5-4 lead. The veteran reliever got two quick outs before grooving a 1-2 pitch to Carew, who belted it into left center field seats for his first homer of the season.

McDaniel retired the first two Minnesota batters in the 10th but Hot, who had entered the game as a late-inning defensive replacement, slammed a 1-0 delivery over the right field fence for his first 1971 homer.

Hargan's injury, suffered when he twisted for an errant throw from first baseman Ken Harrelson in the fifth inning, jolted Cleveland Manager Alvin Dark far more than the Indians' 15th setback in 20 games.

Bruce Dal Canton scattered nine hits and received last-out relief help from Ted Abernathy as the Royals handed Hargan, 11-3 last season, his fifth loss in as many decisions.

At Baltimore, Jim Palmer ran his pitching record to 5-0 with a seven-hitter as the Orioles breezed past California. Boog Powell doubled home two runs to pace the winners' attack.

The victory kept the second place Orioles one game behind Boston's East Division leaders, who broke a 3-3 tie with the White Sox on Phil Gagliano's bases-loaded pinch single in the seventh. Left fielder Carl Yastrzemski blunted a ninth-inning Chicago threat by nailing fleet Luis Alvarado at the plate on a single by pinch-hitter Rich McKinney.

Al Kaline drew a two-out walk in the ninth at Detroit, then raced home from first with winning run as Jim Northrup's single to right went through Reggie Jackson's legs for an error. Jackson had homered earlier for the A's, who retained a 2½-game lead over California in the West despite the loss.

Rookie Bill Parsons spun a three-hitter as the Brewers extended Washington's losing streak to five games on Johnny Briggs' first AL homer—a two-run shot off Dick Bosman in the first inning.

It's Overtime That Kills Hockey Coach

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — "If we played only sixty minutes I wouldn't feel as if we had played a game," groaned Coach Billy Reay Tuesday night after his Chicago Black Hawks had defeated the Montreal Canadiens 2-1 in the second overtime of their opening game in the Stanley Cup finals.

Jim Pappin's goal at 1:11 of the second overtime ended the marathon and gave the Hawks the lead in their best-of-7 series which will continue in Chicago Thursday night.

"Stanley did all the work, I just put it in the net," said Pappin after having scored the first overtime goal of his career.

Stan Mikita set up the play and passed to Pappin after goalie Ken Dryden went sprawling on the ice in anticipation of a Mikita shot.

While newsmen were surrounding Pappin, Mikita walked by and shouted "Tell them about the one you blew near the end of regulation play. We could all have gone home an hour ago."

The game marked the fourth in the last eight in which the Hawks have had to go into overtime and the players couldn't hide their weariness.

It also ended a seven-game overtime winning streak by the Canadiens who last lost in overtime to Toronto in 1967. Bob Pulford scored that goal and, ironically, Pappin assisted on the score.

Pappin explained the last shot of regulation play when he had Dryden at his mercy. "I tried to get it up quick and I did but it caught him on the arm."

"That one saved the bacon for them," said Reay in reference to Pappin's attempt to end the ame in regulation play. "But Tony Esposito also made a great save for us in the second period on a shot by Frank Mahovlich."

Mahovlich also stunned Esposito about six minutes into the first overtime when his blast caught the Hawk goalie on the collarbone.

Reay said he thought his club was flat in the second period "and I was worried but they snapped back in the third period. Our guys worked very, very hard. That's how we've played all year."

Pappin, Reay, Bobby Hull and all the Hawks right down the line had praise for Dryden, Montreal's rookie goalie.

Pat Stapleton and Bill White, the backbone of Chicago's defense, were kidding in their corner about all the ice time they've been getting.

"It doesn't bother us," said White. "We practice late at night. Didn't you know they changed this game to five periods instead of three."

Coach Al MacNeil of the Canadiens said "We're not disheartened. We're sorry we lost, of course. We've got to get one game here. Overtime is one big play."

Montreal took the lead on a power play goal by Jacques LeMaire at 12:39 of the second period and Bobby Hull tied it up with his ninth goal in the playoffs on a power play at 7:54 of the third period.

Then it was a stalemate until the big play.

Beauty and the Beast

"The Spoiler" (above) will attempt to lift Danny Hodge's Gold Belt here tonight at the Coliseum at 8 p.m. Also on the card in the semi-final scrap Scandor Akbor and Treach Phillips will tangle with Crazy Chuck Carbo and Norman Frederick Charles III, plus one other bout.

Bears Owner Testifies in NFL Probe

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — George S. Halas Sr., owner and founder of the Chicago Bears, was expected to be the leadoff witness today as a federal grand jury in Cleveland continued its investigation into possible antitrust violations by the National Football League.

The probe, called by the Antitrust Division of the U.S. Justice Department, is also investigating alleged blackballing of players. A spokesman for the grand jury said the investigation is expected to continue into September, adding that after hearing testimony today, the jury would adjourn for the month.

He added that witnesses would probably be heard again in June, before the jury recesses for July and August.

Three witnesses testified Tuesday, but none would comment to newsmen on what the jury had questioned them about.

Questioned were Vic Schwenk, general manager of the New Orleans Saints; Paul Wiggin, line coach of the San Francisco 49'ers; and Tim Temerario, director of personnel for the Washington Redskins.

Schwenk was the third Saint to testify since the probe began in November. Previous members of the organization called were Saints' owner John Mecom Jr., and former coach, Tom Fears.

Shreveport Edges Travs by 4 to 3

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Shreveport picked up an unearned run in the bottom of the 15th inning to edge Arkansas 4-3 Tuesday night.

John Doherty reached first on an Arkansas error and was pushed to second base when Don Cunningham was hit by a pitch.

Larry Hanson hit a looper to short right field that fell safely allowing Doherty to score from second.

The victory pushed Shreveport back into first place in the Central Division of the Dixie Association, a half game ahead of Arkansas and Memphis. The Travelers and the Blues are tied for second and Birmingham is holding down the last spot.

Arkansas and Shreveport square off again tonight at Shreveport.

In other Dixie action, Birmingham edged Memphis 3-1, Amarillo blanked Dallas - Fort Worth 3-0, Columbus defeated Charlotte 8-4, and San Antonio thrashed Albuquerque 10-3. Asheville split a doubleheader with Savannah. Asheville won the first game 1-0, but Savannah took the nightcap 4-3.

Kentucky Down for ABA Title

By JIM CHURCH

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — So far, the American Basketball Association championship playoffs have been a dream for the Utah Stars and a nightmare for the Kentucky Colonels.

But if the Colonels wake up and return to form, says Stars' Coach Bill Sharman, "we're in trouble."

The Stars, leading the best-of-7 series 1-0 after demoralizing the Colonels with a 50-point second quarter output Monday night in a 136-117 victory, hope for a repeat tonight at the Salt Palace.

The series shifts to Louisville for games Friday night and Saturday afternoon—the fourth game to be nationally televised at 2 p.m. EDT.

The output was an ABA record for one quarter, surpassing the 48 points by Pittsburgh in 1968 and by Indiana in 1969 and again last season.

Kentucky coach Frank Ramsey and Sherman, appearing together at a luncheon, each said they'd like to throw their ABA teams against anybody in the National Basketball Association, "with the exception of Milwaukee," Sharman added.

On the merger possibility, Ramsey said, "The question is not if, but when."

Flood Close to Bankruptcy

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Curt Flood, Washington Senators outfielder, was near bankruptcy despite his annual $110,000 salary, Senators owner Bo Short said Tuesday night.

His creditors "were getting every bit of his salary," Short said. "He was really fouled up financially."

Flood jumped the team last week and went to Europe. The veteran had sat out a year of baseball after filing a suit in federal court against baseball's reserve clause.

An early-season starter for the Senators, Flood had been benched for lack of hitting when he left the United States.

A letter Flood left behind said he was leaving the team because of personal problems.

Short said the problems basically were financial. The club owner said he had told Flood the best way out would have been to file for bankruptcy. However, Flood's attorneys dissuaded him.

"If he had claimed bankruptcy, they wouldn't have been able to touch his salary," Short said. "If he claims bankruptcy now, he would be able to straighten himself out."

A source close to the Washington team said Flood was paying alimony, support for his five children, and had lost money in some bad investments.

Ladycats Drop One to Gurdon

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Playing down to the wire yesterday, the Hope Ladycat Softball team lost an 11-10 decision in the last inning to the Gurdon Go-Devils.

Hope took an early 1-0 lead and held it until Gurdon came up with four runs in the bottom of the third for a 5-3 lead.

Although the Go-Devils added two runs in the fourth inning, the Ladycats batted around in the top of the fifth, scoring seven big runs on various hits, to take a highscoring 10-8 lead.

However, the Ladies were held to a couple of hits in the last two innings, while Gurdon scored the runs they needed for a slim victory.

Top hitters for Hope with three hits apiece were Mary Young, Bonnie Willis, Gigi Gladney, Carol Frazier, Belinda East, and Sharon Ratliffe.

Hope collected 24 hits in 40 times at bat, scoring 10 runs.

The Ladycats next game will be in a tournament at K-Park next Saturday, starting at 9 a.m. Other teams will include Nashville, Gurdon, and possibly Prescott.

No 2-China Deal for UN, Pekin Vows

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hardening of official tone and attitude appears developing in Washington and Peking despite the goodwill generated during last month's visit of an American table-tennis team to mainland China.

Although the visit brought hopes of warmer relations, the only thing heating up now is the rhetoric the two governments are applying to each other.

The New China News Agency, in a domestic Chinese broadcast monitored here, fumed that State Department spokesman Charles Bray used "gangster logic," tampered with history and "turned facts upside down" in saying the legal status of Taiwan or Nationalist China is unsettled.

Declaring the Chinese people will never permit the U.S. government to plot a "two-China" or "one China, one Taiwan" solution, the broadcast added:

"When and how the Chinese people liberate Taiwan is entirely China's internal affair, and no foreign country whatsoever has any right to interfere."

Meanwhile, Asst. Secretary of State Marshall Green told a congressional committee on foreign aid:

"We are faced with a mainland China which, whatever its latest welcome degree of seemingly greater flexibility in international affairs, has presumably not abandoned its basic objectives of greater dominance over free East Asian countries."

Among some professional diplomats the word "euphoria" has cropped up to describe the rosy hopes for better U.S.-Chinese relations.

According to one high policymaker, "What we are saying is that we are realistic and not so euphoric as to think we can change their objectives. The assumption we have to go on is that they have not changed their objectives."

The Chinese Nationalist government has angrily criticized the United States for questioning Taiwan's status in relation to the mainland.

The suggestion by a state department spokesman last week that some talks take place between the Chinese government on Taiwan and the Peking regime was dismissed by the Nationalists as nonsense.

Peking jumped on Bray's statement that the United States has treaty commitments for defense of Taiwan and the Pescadores Islands.

The heated exchanges from both Nationalist and Communist China and the U.S. reaction suggested Washington's adoption of a formula for keeping Taiwan in the United Nations wiile the Peking regime also is steated will satisfy no one.

Kiwanis Club Meets

MACK McLARTY

Mrs. Thalia Geist, Mrs. Ramona Strech, and Mrs. Claudia Hart, representing the Friday Music Club, appeared as a part of National Music Week Celebration, this event taking place this week, May 2nd to May 9th.

Mrs. Geist spoke briefly concerning the musical events taking place in our community this week. "The theme of National Music Week this year is Joy in Service Through Music", she said. Mrs. Geist then presented Mrs. Claudia Hart who sang selections from The Sound of Music. She was accompanied by Mrs. Ramona Strech.

Mack McLarty, Hempstead County Representative, was then introduced by Kiwanian Mike Kelly.

Mr. McLarty related a number of humorous experiences while campaigning last summer. He stated it is his opinion that a very large percentage of our people feel that government is out of touch with them. They seem to feel that government just doesn't care about their needs.

Another of Mr. McLarty's observations was that there doesn't seem to be as much of a generation gap as one might believe. Older people are willing to give a young man a chance. As evidence of this fact, he stated that 64 of the 100 members of the house have served two terms or less and the average age of the legislature now stands at 34 years.

Mr. McLarty feels our state is moving in the right direction. He mentioned several specific pieces of legislation he feels will benefit our State. "Possibly one of the best pieces of legislation was the Reorganization Bill, a bill combining 187 Boards and Commissions into 13 Departments, answerable to the Administration. This should result in economy and efficiency," said Mr. McLarty.

Guests at Tuesday's meeting were Mrs. W.A. Mudgett, Mrs. K.G. Hamilton, and Miss Mary K. Lehman.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — When Bella Vista Baptist Church recently observed its 10th anniversary, women of the church combined the event with a celebration of the pastor's birthday.

The Rev. Robert Lee Page founded the church.

The church women baked a cake that was 6x8 feet wide on the bottom layer and with four layers each a foot high.

The 457-pound cake contained 258 cups of flour, 175 pounds of sugar, 76 cups of shortening, 9 3/4 gallons of milk and 430 eggs.

New Bomber Proposal Is Under Attack

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A renewed congressional attack on the Pentagon budget has opened with claims the proposed B1 bomber system could cost as much as $75 billion and be obsolete by the time it is ready to fly.

House and Senate critics who form Members of Congress for Peace through Law contend the B1 will be unable to perform its missions, will escalate the arms race, cost billions more than estimated and, finally be outgunned by enemy defense systems.

The report urged the B1 program be scrapped and further research devoted to a fleet of flying missile-launching platforms to augment the nation's land-and sea-based missiles.

Such a device could fire missiles from long range, the report reasoned, without exposing to hazards of attempting to penetrate antiaircraft defenses.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., a World War II bomber pilot, headed the panel that wrote the B1 report.

"My own view is that missiles, have pretty well relegated the manned bomber to a museum piece," McGovern told a news conference Tuesday.

Another panel member, Rep. John F. Ciberling, D-Ohio, said it is entirely likely that by the time a fleet of B1 bombers with nuclear capability is ready, a defense capable of nullifying the plane also will exist.

"Long before any bomber, whether sonic or subsonic, would get over a target, undoubtedly it would be knocked out of the air," Ciberling said. "Short-range missiles and decoys would prove inadequate to fool the enemy."

The Air Force estimates B1 costs at a maximum $11.1 billion. The congressmen said an estimate of $47.2 billion is more credible in view of swiftly rising cost overruns.

When all related costs over the next decade are added up, the report asserted, the total could reach $75 billion.

That price tag would include, the report said, a new tanker fleet needed to refuel the B1 in flight; maintenance, repair and operation of the B1 and the tankers, and sophisticated gear stripped temporarily from the B1 design because of rising costs.

Casting doubt on the B1's ability ever to perform its role, the report added: "The cost of a new generation of manned strategic bombers and supporting fleet of tankers is so staggering as to make the question of continuing any strategic bomber program one of great national concern."

"Air Force cost projections are wishful thinking at best," McGovern said. "At worst they are dishonest."

Medic Center Is Key to Sp'l Session

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Tuesday that financial problems at the University of Arkansas Medical Center could possibly influence his decision about whether to call a special session of the legislature.

Bumpers told newsmen that he viewed as critical the financial problems at the center that have caused a cancellation of raises for most of the 1,800 employes in the next fiscal year.

"I consider it a rather critical situation," Bumpers said.

He said he understood during the recent legislative session that the appropriation for the medical center was sufficient to provide raises and to fund other programs that were authorized.

The governor said the prolem did not warrant calling a special session now but that if other problems accumulated a special session was possible.

Dr. James L. Dennis, vice president for health sciences at the center, said Tuesday the financial crisis also would probably put a halt to Bumpers program to increase the number of physicians starting practice in rural parts of the state. The program was one of Bumpers major campaign promises.

New Tensions Are Sure for Europe as E. German Boss Quits

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Europe, which has been relatively free of extreme international tension recently, may be headed for a new round of it because of the departure from power of East Germany's durable old Communist boss, Walter Ulbricht.

The frontier of East and West Germany, along with divided Berlin, is the one place in the world where American and Soviet power are in direct confrontation, and neither appears to relish the possibilities. Each would like to ease the worry.

Now, however, the implications of the political change in East Berlin can be enough to explode any notions the Americans might have had about substantial withdrawal of military forces from the heart of Europe. There is reason to suspect that the outbreak of peace between the Germanys has been appreciably deferred.

Ulbricht, though he had grumbled about West Germany to the point of becoming a nuisance to Moscow, was at the same time Moscow's unswerving serbant who would act as Moscow wanted him to act and be obliged to forget about any real reward in the form of furthering his own party's ambitions.

Now nearing 78, Ulbricht has been moved aside for a tougher, younger man, Erich Honecker, reputed to be a granite hard-liner. To those who follow these things closely, this shatters hopes that East and West Germany can agree about such things as the status of Berlin and the movement of goods and people back and forth across the German frontiers.

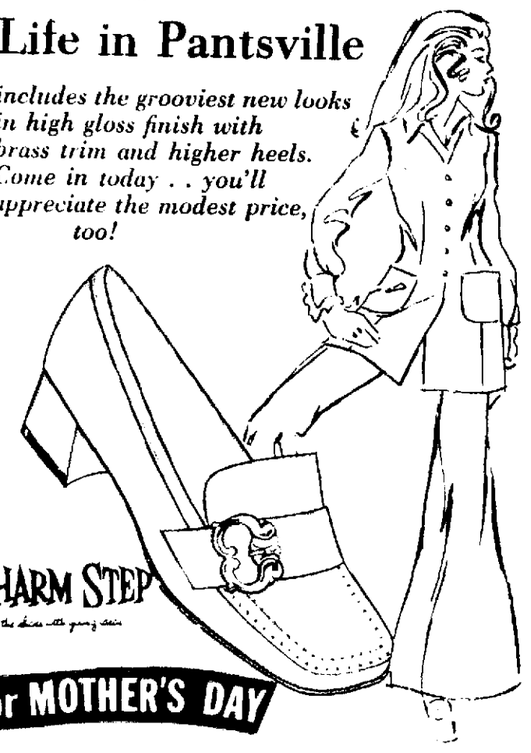

That in turn is bad news for West German Chancellor Willy Brandt's hopes that the treaties he has worked out with the Soviet Union and Poland will be ratified in Bonn. There will be even more suspicion of Eastern intentions now that Honecker is in control of the East German Communists.

The Russians hurried—it appeared even to be unseemly hurry—to assure the world that they wholly endorsed the East German change, but the shift probably is a blow to the Kremlin, too. It wanted badly to have the Moscow-Bonn treaty ratified, especially now that the Soviet administration wants all the help it can get to carry out ambitious economic plans.

Too much peace between the two Germanys could be risky for the East German party, and it seemed to be informing Moscow on that score. The East German party needs its enemy at the doorstep to excuse the tough measures it enforces at home. The lack of that enemy could produce a situation in East Germany not unlike that of Czechoslovakia in 1968. How would the Russians like it if they had to invoke the Brezhnev Doctrine in East Germany to put down a rebellious populace?

Wasteful Computer Policy Cited

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal auditors claim the buying and leasing policies of the world's biggest computer user—the U.S. government—are punching holes in chances for multimillion-dollar savings.

Reporting to Congress on the use of more than $13 billion worth of owned and leased automatic data-processing equipment, the General Accounting Office suggests reforms aimed at computing a better bargain for the taxpayer's data dollar.

As an example of potential savings, GAO compared with multiyear lease rates offered by manufacturers and other suppliers with the short-term rental rates for 430 government data systems.

"The comparison indicated that the rental costs for the 430 systems might be reduced during the lease periods by as much as $16 million under three-year leases and by as much as $28 million under five-year leases," GAO said.

As for 636 other systems which aren't covered under legal provisions for the long-term leasing, "rental costs might be reduced during the lease periods by as much as $54 million under three-year leases and by as much as $127 million under five-year leases," GAO added.

The government's computer-system inventory rose from 531 to 5,277 during the last decade, with the cost of buying and renting equipment at $560 million in fiscal 1969 and rising annually, the report said.

The government "is not making maximum use of its data equipment purchase funds, primarily because agencies continue to make purchase decisions on the basis of their individual funding capabilities and needs ... ," the GAO said. "Systematic analysis were not made to determine the best buys from the government-wide viewpoint."

THIEVES BEWARE

DALLAS (AP) — Police here are using a new metal trace detection technique to help solve burglaries and crimes of violence.

Investigator Gonzalo Gonzales says the process, which involves a $50 ultraviolet lamp and a special alcohol compound, has already proved accurate although it is only in the experimental stage.

Meets President

When the National President of the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Charles C. Shaw of Illinois, made her official visit to the Department of Arkansas at Little Rock on Saturday, May 1, Miss Judy Croom of Hope, winner of the 1970 National President's $1,500.00 scholarship award, was on hand to meet her.

For the occasion the Department held a Rehabilitation Conference with personnel from the consolidated V.A. Hospitals in Little Rock, presenting the program.

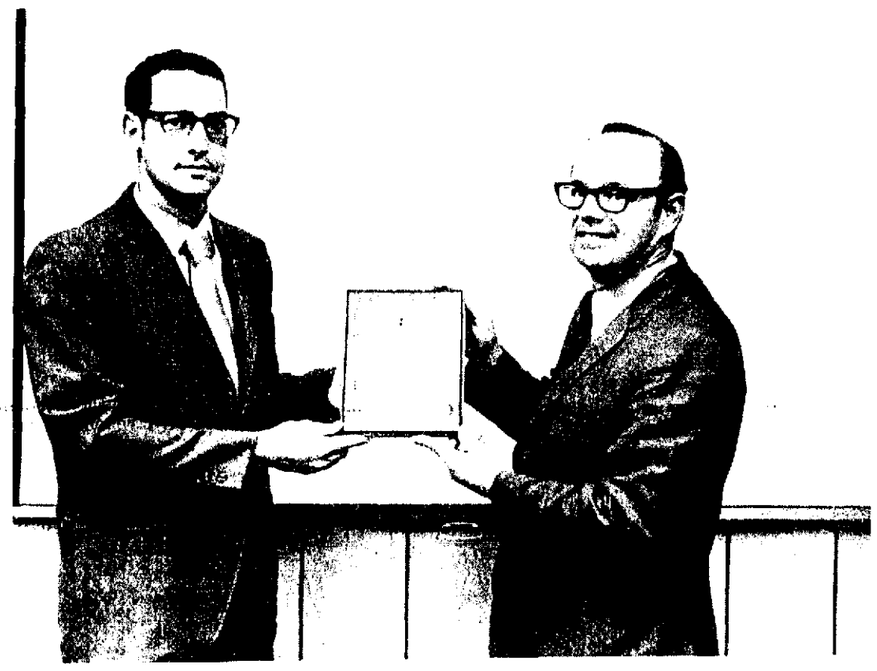

In talking to Mrs. Shaw, Judy told her she was using the scholarship to further her education at the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, and majoring in art.

Others attending the conference and luncheon were Mrs. Ellen Croom, Judy's mother, Mrs. Joe Jones, Unit 12 President, and Mrs. Lee "Cookie" Stephens of Little Rock.

The meeting was held at the M. M. Eberts Post Home 315 E. Capitol, Little Rock.

One of the suggestions made by the Hospital representatives was to send the local news paper to patients in the V.A. hospitals away from home.

PHILLIPS 8 Resurfacing and shoulder stabilization work on 3.8 miles of Arkansas 20 beginning at the Highway 20 Spur northeasterly. Estimated cost $9,500.

SEVIER and LITTLE RIVER —Resurfacing of 16.7 miles of Arkansas 41 from DeQueen to Cross Roads. Estimated cost $202,000.

SEBASTIAN — Grading, erosion control items and construction of one concrete-slab bridge along 1.2 miles of Arkansas 59 in Fort Smith. Estimated cost $390,000.

CUBAN PASTORS FREED

RUSCHLIKON, Switz. (AP) Two Baptist pastors from Cuba, the first allowed to go abroad in the last five years, told a meeting here that the majority of Baptist pastors who had been imprisoned have now been released and have resumed preaching.

The Revs. Manuel Salom and Humberto Dominguez, of the Baptist Convention of Western Cuba, said the Cuban churches now can hold worship services as often as they wish within their own buildings, but not outside them. There are about 16,000 Cuban Baptists, the ministers said.

Cambodia Sets Up New Government

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — A restructured Cambodian government was named today, headed oy the original Republican leadership but with many new and younger names in the Cabinet, informed sources said.

The new government, headed in name by ailing Marshal Lon Nol but in fact by Lt. Gen. Sisowath Sirik Matak, is scheduled to go before the National Assembly for a confidence vote Thursday.

If approved as expected, Camboaid will have a government for the first time since April 20, when Lon Nol resigned as premier and plunged the six-month-old republic into its first political crisis.

The sources said the new, multitiered government structure was designed to be "less political and more functional" than the old regime, with younger, better trained and more efficient men filling the top posts.

The basic governmental plan was announced three days ago, but it continued to undergo changes until early today when a leadership conference adjourned and agreed to meet with all the Cabinet nominees later in the day.

Lon Nol, who suffered a crippling stroke in February, will be named president of the council of ministers. His former deputy premier, Sirik Matak, will run the government as "president delegate."

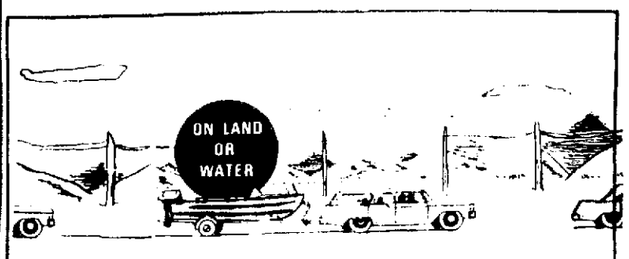

Sirik Matak, who last week was named the government's delegate to the armed forces when Lon Nol was given the title of commander-in-chief, also will b defense minister.

Under Sirik Matak will be three vice premiers—Brig. Gen. In Tam, who is president of the National Assembly, governor of Kompong Cham Province and commander of strategic Military Region one; Sok Chhong, president and director of the State Bank and minister of economy in the early 1950s, and Hang Thun Hak, minister of development in the outgoing regime.

In Tam will be interior minister and oversee the national security directorate and religious cults.

Hang Thun Hak will be minister of community development and will oversee the Ministry of Education and Fine Arts headed by Pann Sothi, the only U.S.-trained member of the new Cabinet.

Sok Chhong will be vice premier in charge of finance and national economy, supervising the Ministry of Commerce and Industry headed by Khung Thay Ly, and the Agriculture Ministry headed by Sor Song, the present commissioner for rice culture.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A big break for many viewers is the shifting of CBS's weekly news hour and NBC's monthly "First Tuesday" so they will be seen at different times next season.

This month the NBC two-hour program covered a lot of territory—from Vietnam to a trip down the concrete-lined Los Angeles River.

It started promisingly with a story about plane hijackers and their opponents, the sky marshals.

Psychiatrists and law enforcement officials said most of the "take me to Cuba" travelers are sick people. The program found two returned hijackers and interviewed one.

A Georgia man said he hijacked a plane to further an idea to kill Fidel Castro. He said he realized it was not a sensible plan, and recalled that once in Cuba, police laughed at his demand to see the leader.

It was a good segment on a subject of concern to travelers.

Most impressive portion was film showing a number of young narcortic addicts. Some were shown taking the drugs. All talked about their habits, some dreamily and obviously under their influence. Others spoke of the horrors of withdrawal.

One moving segment focused on puzzled, unhappy parents of one young addict. The mother, an intelligent and articulathoman, confessed again and again her mystification about her son's problem.

Another feature centered on the Joseph Colombo family, father and sons, and their organization, the Italian-American Civil Rights League. Colombo, alleged head of a Mafia family denied the existence now of an American Mafia "They were Robin Hoods," said his son Anthony.

Two of the Colombos said much the same thing on a recent visit to Dick Cavett's talk show and their a[illegible]vities have been thoroughly covered in print.

Al Robinson Undergoes Brain Surgery

OAKLAND (AP) — Al Robinson, a silver medal winner in the 1968 Olympic games and winner of 12 of 13 fights since turning professional two years ago, was in critical condition at Eden Hospital in Castro Valley today following brain surgery.

The 23-year-old lightweight collapsed during a workout Friday and lapsed into unconsciousness.
